ROBLOX is a company characterized by its community-based culture. This is reflected in its games, which are generally hosted on the website (as opposed to the product), and as a result, are built by users for users. The developers at ROBLOX have stated that they are completely open to third party development—the only restriction on what is considered acceptable and permissible is that all products must be compatible with ROBLOX's Terms of Service. Whether ROBLOX soft products will be accepted into the Steam platform is still unconfirmed.

I am not a Minecraft addict, but I do enjoy playing that game. However, that is only because my friends and I play it together. Not because of the millions of dollars or diamonds you can get for free on Roblox. People are obsessed with Roblox; my Facebook account was filled with friends who played Minecraft as if they were addicted to crack. They would constantly post pictures about their new lifesize cardboard builds they worked on at home; taking ages-long breaks between each video to watch more videos of minecraft. We've all had friends who were that addicted to Roblox in our time, but I have never met one like Sinead who was "deeply miserable" because she was deprived of playing it. That was always the case whenever anyone mentioned it, I'm sure; parents would frequently ask me if and how I managed to get my grades, and teachers would always ask me if we had any homework. Sometimes they'd even assign us essays to write about our time on Roblox; even though a few months before everyone stopped doing them unless they were mandatory.
